

Blanket Freelance Agreement

This agreement is entered into between The Washington Times ("The Times") and ("Contractor ")

Name: _____

Address:

Phone:

The Times requires all stringers to provide either a copy of their Social Security card or a W9 form to be completed by them. If you need a W9 form, I can fax or mail you one. Fax Social Security card and contract to: 202- 715-0037.

From time to time, a Contractor may produce for The Times material for publication. This material may consist of articles, news stories, opinion columns, art work and/or other such original material as mutually agreed upon by The Times and the Contractor.

Rights Granted

Contractor agrees and understands that he is granting to The Times ownership rights to whatever materials he produces for The Times, including first publication rights, re-publication rights in this or other Washington Times print media and in electronic databases such as nexis and other such electronic archives.

The Times hereby grants contractor permission to re-publish these material(s) except for newspapers in direct competition with The Times in Washington, DC.

Consideration

Contractor and The Times will agree upon payment on a case-by-case basis.

Limitation

This agreement does not obligate the Contractor to produce any specific original material, either in kind or in quantity for The Times. Similarly, this agreement does not require either The Times to procure from the Contractor any specific material for publication, in kind or quantity. The Contractor and The Times, through the agency of its designated editors, will independently negotiate specific materials for possible publication.
